Where Urban Meets Nature

Plan your next corporate event here.

MEET IN NANAIMO

Welcome to Nanaimo

Welcome to Nanaimo, where authentic connections meet unforgettable gatherings.

Because here, meetings don't just happen; they come alive through community, creativity, and coastal charm.

From modern high-tech spaces to venues with more than 38,000 sq ft, we're here to connect you with the city's best hotels, meeting spaces, and local partners to help create that wow factor.

The city is home to diverse venues, from boutique and historical locations to educational and outdoor spaces that showcase the city's culture. With over 1,200 hotel rooms – from budget to boutique – and group activities, your attendees will have plenty to explore. Nanaimo offers an exclusive incentive program that supports everything from citywide tech events to hybrid and open-air space gatherings.

We look forward to welcoming your delegates to Nanaimo and sharing all the city has to offer. Use this meeting planners toolkit as a source for inspiration, a checklist for sustainable practices, and a tool to integrate diversity, equity, and inclusion into your planning. When you're ready to hold your next event in Nanaimo, let us know!

The Reconciliation Journey

Acknowledgement of Snuneymuxw First Nation Territory

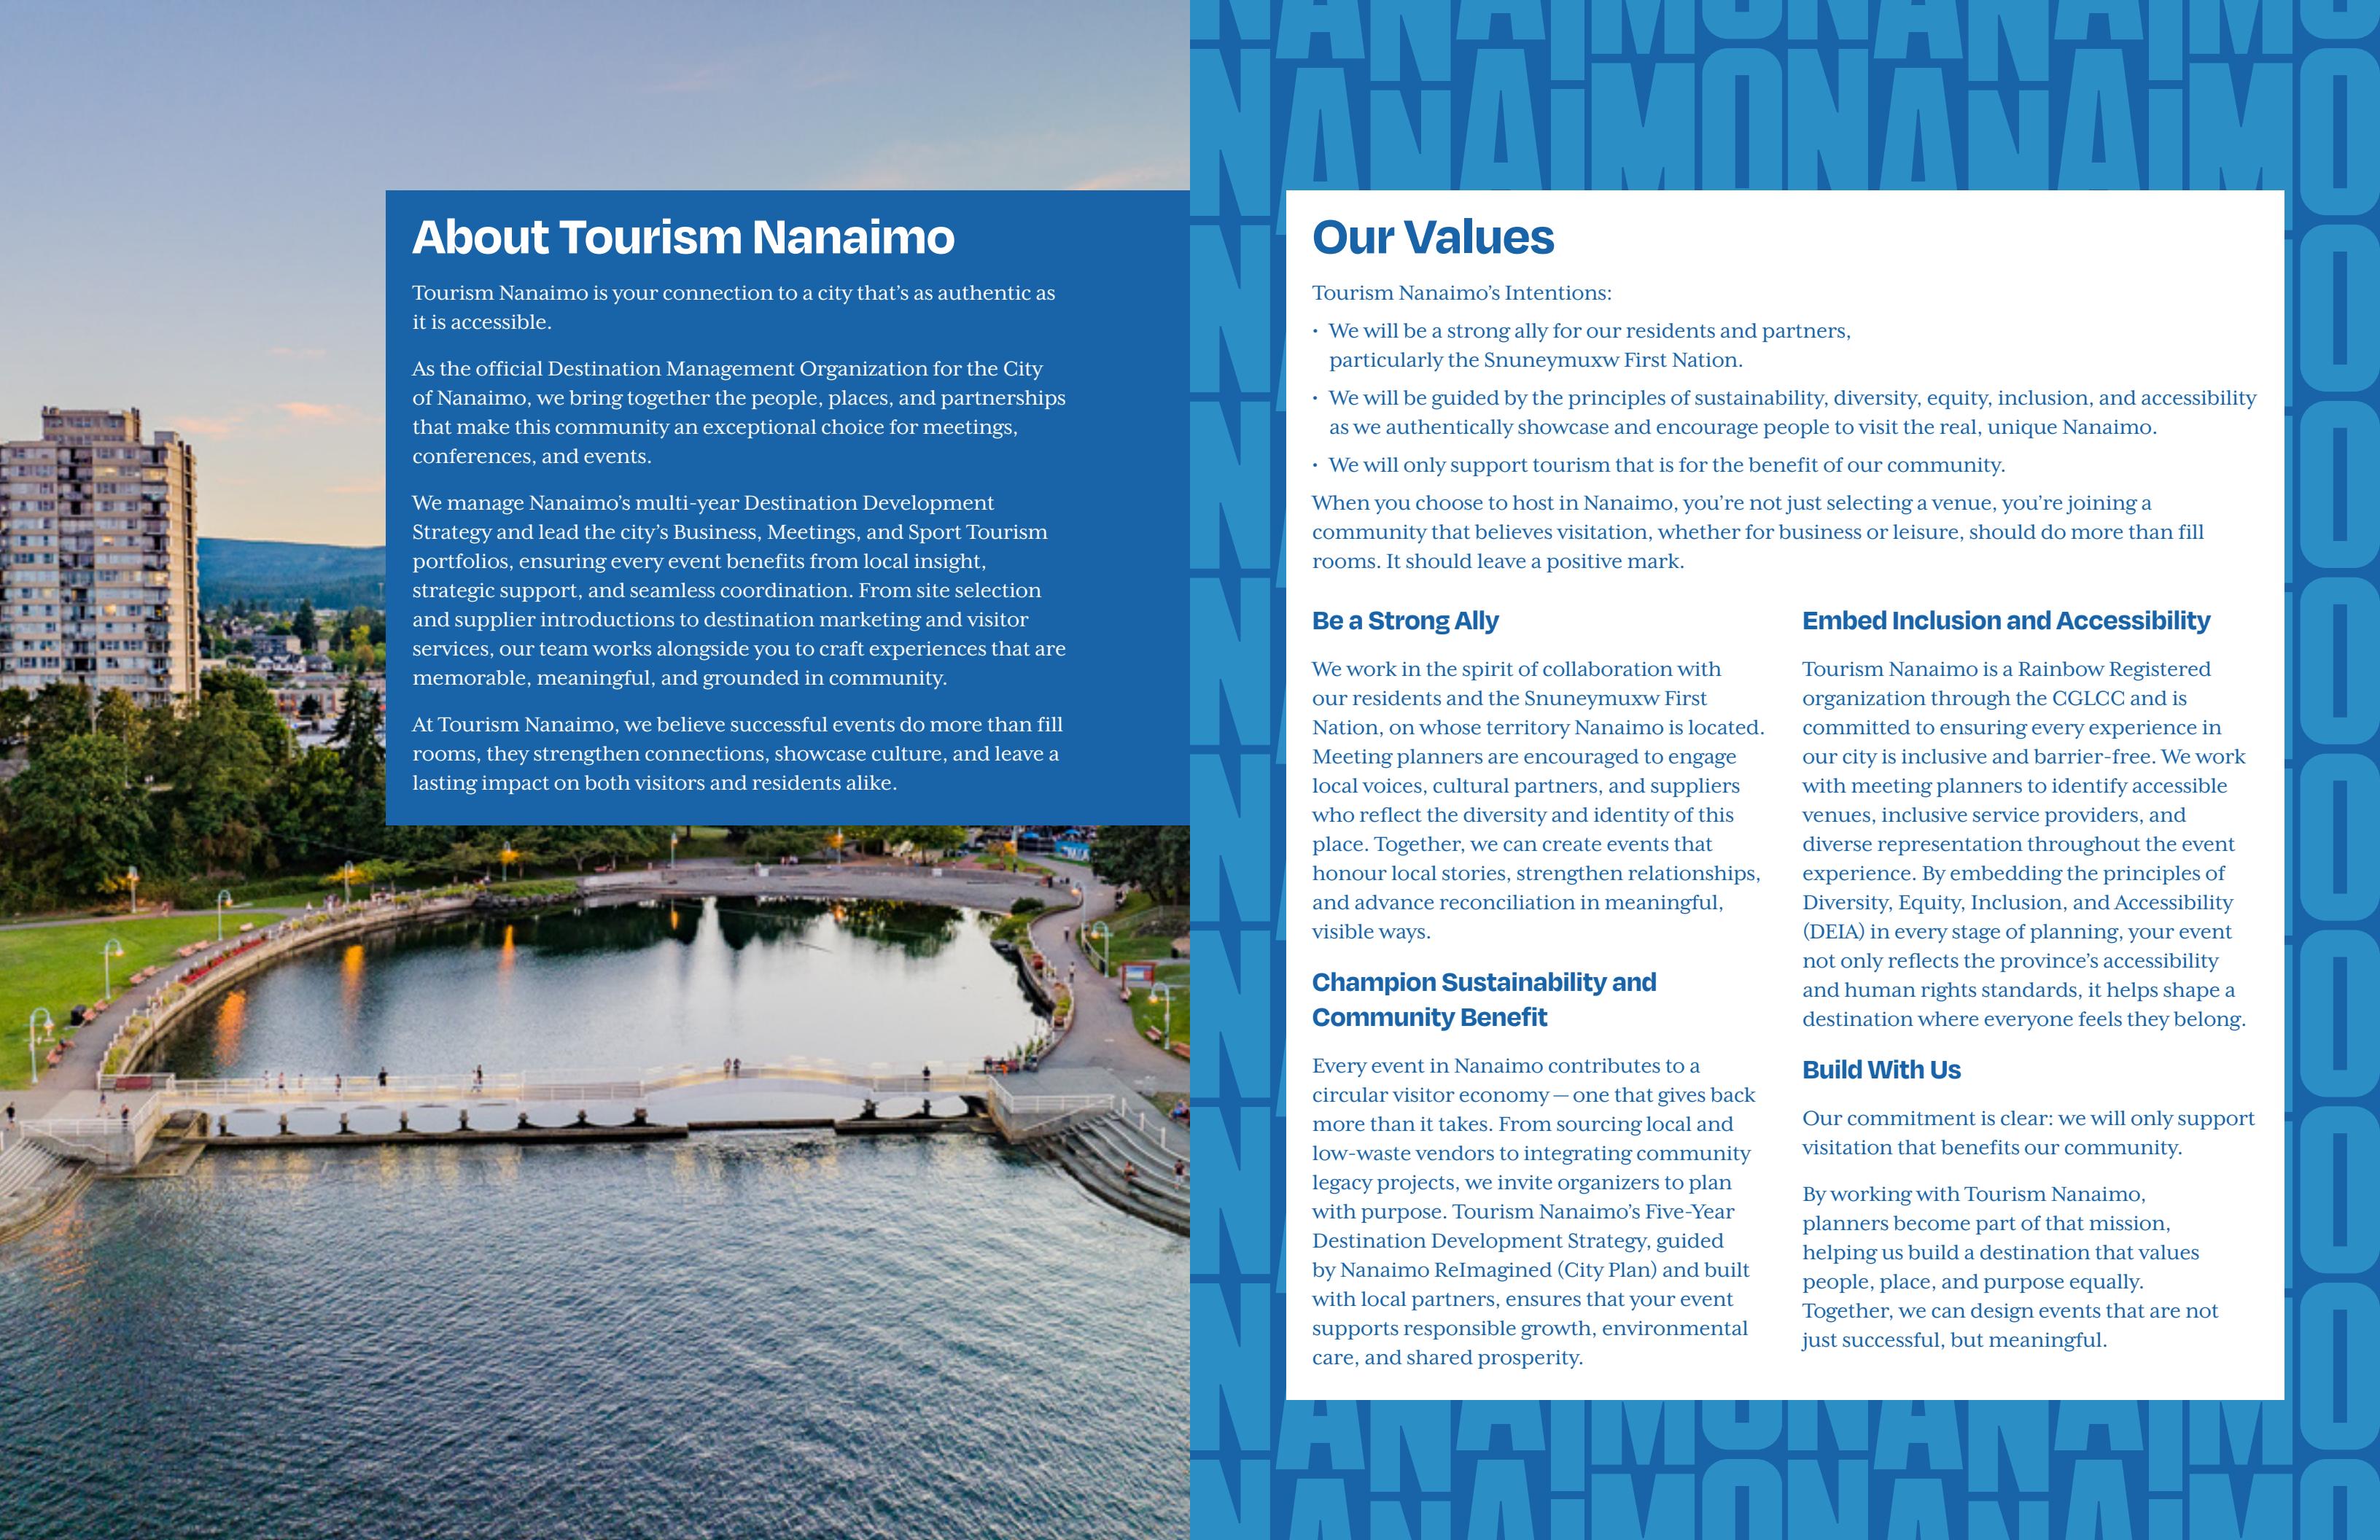

We acknowledge with gratitude that our work takes place on the territories of the Snuneymuxw, Snaw-naw-as, and Stzuminus people. Tourism Nanaimo is committed to advancing the Truth and Reconciliation Commission's Calls to Action, including Call 92, by fostering partnerships that support economic reconciliation, and Call 79, by sharing Indigenous histories and living cultures in collaboration with First Nation governments.

When we invite people to Nanaimo, we invite them to join our reconciliation journey. This land holds deep historical and cultural significance for the Snuneymuxw Nation, a vibrant Coast Salish people who have lived here since time immemorial, with villages reaching from the eastern coast of Vancouver Island to the Fraser River and Gulf Islands.

For over 170 years, the Snuneymuxw people have endured oppressive systems aimed at denying their rights, erasing their presence, and undermining their way of life and spirituality. Despite this, they have remained steadfast, prioritizing community, Snawayalth, and their connection to the land.

We honour the Snuneymuxw Nation's enduring connection to this land and are committed to fostering relationships built on respect, collaboration, and mutual growth. Together, we aim to elevate the stories of the Snuneymuxw people, connect with the land and its rich history, and ensure that events hosted here celebrate culture, reconciliation, and education.

Thank you for joining us in this important work.

About Tourism Nanaimo

Tourism Nanaimo is your connection to a city that's as authentic as it is accessible.

As the official Destination Management Organization for the City of Nanaimo, we bring together the people, places, and partnerships that make this community an exceptional choice for meetings, conferences, and events.

We manage Nanaimo's multi-year Destination Development Strategy and lead the city's Business, Meetings, and Sport Tourism portfolios, ensuring every event benefits from local insight, strategic support, and seamless coordination. From site selection and supplier introductions to destination marketing and visitor services, our team works alongside you to craft experiences that are memorable, meaningful, and grounded in community.

At Tourism Nanaimo, we believe successful events do more than fill rooms, they strengthen connections, showcase culture, and leave a lasting impact on both visitors and residents alike.

Our Values

Tourism Nanaimo's Intentions:

- We will be a strong ally for our residents and partners, particularly the Snuneymuxw First Nation.
- We will be guided by the principles of sustainability, diversity, equity, inclusion, and accessibility as we authentically showcase and encourage people to visit the real, unique Nanaimo.
- We will only support tourism that is for the benefit of our community.

When you choose to host in Nanaimo, you're not just selecting a venue, you're joining a community that believes visitation, whether for business or leisure, should do more than fill rooms. It should leave a positive mark.

Be a Strong Ally

We work in the spirit of collaboration with our residents and the Snuneymuxw First Nation, on whose territory Nanaimo is located. Meeting planners are encouraged to engage local voices, cultural partners, and suppliers who reflect the diversity and identity of this place. Together, we can create events that honour local stories, strengthen relationships, and advance reconciliation in meaningful, visible ways.

Champion Sustainability and Community Benefit

Every event in Nanaimo contributes to a circular visitor economy — one that gives back more than it takes. From sourcing local and low-waste vendors to integrating community legacy projects, we invite organizers to plan with purpose. Tourism Nanaimo's Five-Year Destination Development Strategy, guided by Nanaimo ReImagined (City Plan) and built with local partners, ensures that your event supports responsible growth, environmental care, and shared prosperity.

Embed Inclusion and Accessibility

Tourism Nanaimo is a Rainbow Registered organization through the CGLCC and is committed to ensuring every experience in our city is inclusive and barrier-free. We work with meeting planners to identify accessible venues, inclusive service providers, and diverse representation throughout the event experience. By embedding the principles of Diversity, Equity, Inclusion, and Accessibility (DEIA) in every stage of planning, your event not only reflects the province's accessibility and human rights standards, it helps shape a destination where everyone feels they belong.

Build With Us

Our commitment is clear: we will only support visitation that benefits our community.

By working with Tourism Nanaimo, planners become part of that mission, helping us build a destination that values people, place, and purpose equally. Together, we can design events that are not just successful, but meaningful.

Why Nanaimo

Our Business Events team is here to support you every step of the way. Whether you're just starting to plan or finalizing the details, we offer complimentary services to help make your meeting or conference in Nanaimo seamless and successful, including:

Incentive Programs

It pays to host your event in Nanaimo

Tourism Nanaimo

Conference Incentive:

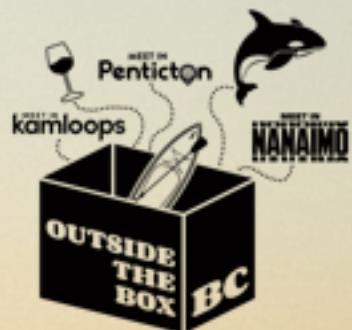

Book and host your meeting or conference in Nanaimo and actualize 400+ room nights and receive up to $10,000 credit to the groups master account

*New bookings only, credit will be based on total room nights consumed, not contracted. Please contact gina@tourismnanaimo.com

Outside the Box BC

Outside the Box BC (OTBBC) is a collective of three DMOs (Tourism Nanaimo, Tourism Kamloops & Meet in Penticton) in BC who aim to bring meetings and conferences to all three Destinations. Submit one RFP, which will be delivered to all three destinations, and an RFP response will slide into your inbox. As part of the incentive program, qualified planners who book a meeting or conference in all 3 of our destinations within 5 years will receive $10.00 back per room night actualized. This is a planner incentive, so it does not have to be the same program in each destination, but it can be!

Planning Your Meeting or Event in Nanaimo

Let's Get Planning – The Nanaimo Way!

Whether you're envisioning a multi-day conference, a team-building getaway, or a one-of-a-kind gathering with coastal charm, planning your event in Nanaimo starts with a conversation. From your first brainstorming session to the final round of applause, our team is here to make it smooth, memorable, and uniquely Nanaimo. Here's how we help bring your event to life:

Steps to start planning

1. Set up an exploratory meeting with Gina Bethell
2. Receive a proposal from Gina on appropriate hotels, venues, and destination logistics
3. Schedule a site visit and venue inspection (if relevant)
4. Hold dates and block hotel rooms
5. Determine venues and develop agreements
6. Build out your event program and logistics
7. Coordinate transportation and delegate experience
8. Engage local suppliers and Indigenous partners
9. Promote your event
10. Finalize event details and run of show
11. Host your event – and wow your attendees!

Sustainable Events

On Vancouver Island, Synergy Enterprises is a leader in event carbon management and sustainable event planning. It can support you in planning, implementing, and measuring the impact of your event and the success of your sustainability tactics if it is a key deliverable of your event.

If you are just getting started with hosting more sustainable events, this section will include a few tips on where to take those first steps.

Guidelines for zero-waste and low-impact events

A zero-waste event doesn't mean eliminating all waste. The goal is to create a system that reduces the overall waste generated, prioritizes reuse, and ensures that any remaining waste is recycled, composted, donated, or otherwise diverted from landfills.

Even without professional guidance, there are some key actions you can take to make your event more sustainable:

1. Prioritize local

- a. Using local vendors helps contribute to economic and community sustainability. Tourism Nanaimo can support any questions about local vendors

2. Eliminate single-use items

- a. Opt for water refill stations rather than bottles, and use proper cutlery rather than plastic when possible.

3. Avoid print materials in favour of digital materials. If print cannot be avoided, try to use local printers and recycled paper.

4. Work with your venue to ensure recycling bins are plentiful

5. For giveaways and prizes, consider reusable items like branded water bottles, totes, or a curated welcome piece (hoodie, socks, something that is unlikely to wind up in the garbage)

6. Opt for lanyards that can be returned/reused

7. Rent decorations and supplies rather than purchase them

Carbon Offsets

Carbon offsetting is the process of compensating for greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions, such as CO₂, from activities such as travel, energy use, or manufacturing, by funding projects that reduce or remove an equivalent amount of emissions elsewhere.

While the goal should always be to reduce as much as possible, carbon offsetting can be a meaningful way to leave a destination better than when you arrived.

You can calculate and purchase carbon offset credits through Carbonzero, which allows you to direct your support to a project of your choosing. The Great Bear Forest Carbon Project is a popular option with a direct impact on British Columbia.

How to Plan Regenerative Tourism Experiences

Regenerative tourism goes beyond sustainable tourism by not just minimizing harm but actively restoring ecosystems, reviving cultures, and benefiting local communities. It asks: "How can this trip leave the place better than we found it?"

Some key principles of regenerative tourism include:

- Place-based: Designed around the unique history, ecology, and people of a place
- Co-created: Planned with locals, not just for tourists
- Restorative: Heals Ecosystems, cultures, and communities
- Educative: Inspires travelers to become stewards and change-makers
- Equitable: Distributes power and profits fairly

Ways that you can engage in regenerative tourism with your meeting or event in Nanaimo include:

- Donate leftover food or event materials through local redistribution networks. (Risebridge Society, FoodShare Nanaimo, Salvation Army)
- Offset your event's carbon footprint by supporting local environmental projects. (See tips above for carbon offsetting)
- Offer an "opt-in" donation option during event registration for a local cause.
- Collaborate with a local artist or youth group to create an installation or performance during your event.
- Host a volunteer opportunity as a pre-conference or breakout session (beach cleanup, community garden work, youth mentoring).
- Feature local social enterprises in delegate bags, speaker gifts, or catering.
- Cultural tours on Saysutshun Island

Local Experiences & Entertainment

Arts & Culture Scene

Nanaimo, one of BC's oldest cities, holds a history rooted in over 3,000 years of Snuneymuxw First Nation heritage. Here, arts and culture aren't expressions – they're the city's heartbeat. With bold contrasts and creativity that doesn't ask permission, the scene invites you in. Local talent shares the stage with global acts at jazz, blues, and fringe festivals. Live music spills from venues. What you'll find here is uncontrived, diverse, and deeply engaging.

Come and be part of our living, breathing cultural landscape at:

Wellness Experiences

Wellness at Your Meeting

In Nanaimo, wellness isn't a trend, it's how we live. Adding it to your meeting or event helps keep energy up and focus sharp. Whether it's quiet time between sessions or a group reset outside, it's easy to build into your program.

Ideas to Get You Started:

- Guided yoga, stretch breaks, or mindfulness sessions
- Nature walks along the Harbourfront Walkway or nearby parks
- Mental health rooms or quiet recharge spaces
- Island Sauna – a wood-fired Scandinavian sauna experience near downtown
- Zen Revolution – a private spin class or breath-focused movement at this stylish downtown studio
- Pop-up yoga in the park, waterfront, or even inside the Vancouver Island Conference Centre
- Balanced agendas with learning, movement, fresh air, and downtime

Group Outdoor Experiences

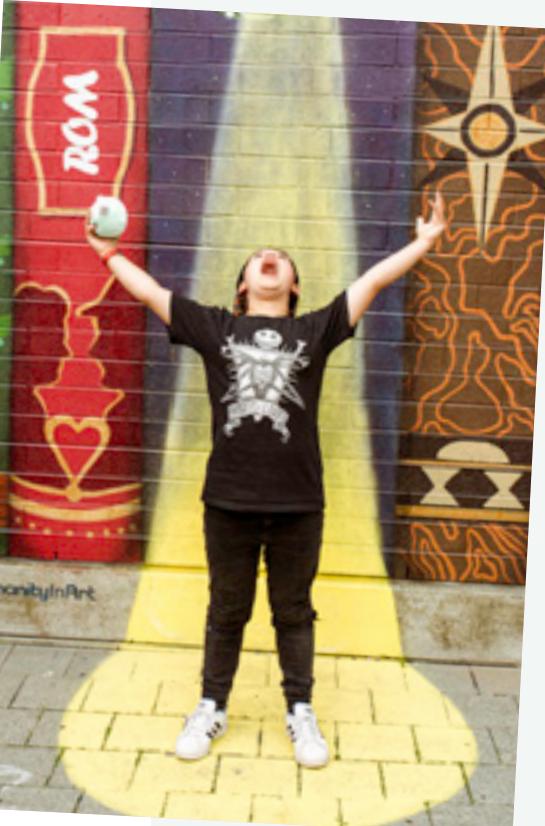

Wildplay Element Parks

Located on 17 scenic acres along the Nanaimo River, WildPlay Element Park offers ziplining, tree-top courses, a 40-ft jump, bungee, and axe throwing for those who prefer to stay grounded.

Group rates and customizable packages available.

Saysutshun Island

Just a short passenger ferry ride from downtown Nanaimo (seasonal service), Saysutshun Island offers a unique opportunity for conference groups to experience the rich cultural history of the Snuneymuxw First Nation in a setting that inspires reflection and connection.

Ideal for delegate outings, team-building, or off-site activities, the island features guided cultural tours, scenic beaches, and over 22km of walking and cycling trails. Groups can also enjoy kayak and bike rentals, picnic areas, and optional catering through local partners.

Let your attendees step away from the meeting room and into the story of this spiritual, historic place—an unforgettable way to connect with the land and local culture.

Team Building on the Water with Island Römer Adventures

Take your group off the beaten path and on the water with guided kayak tours that blend exploration with connection with Island Römer Adventures. Suitable for all levels, it's a group activity that naturally encourages teamwork and shared memories. Ideal for delegates, incentive groups, or off-site wellness and team bonding activities.

Spot wildlife, navigate the coastline, or simply share the adventure.

Group Whale Watching with Vancouver Island Whale Watch

Departing from Departure Bay, Vancouver Island Whale Watch is BC's most sustainable whale watching operator. Choose an open-air zodiac or semi-covered vessel and explore the Salish Sea with expert guides who know the whales by name.

An unforgettable off-site experience that's an ideal addition to any conference program looking to blend education, sustainability, and west coast wonder.

2SLGBTQIA+ Travel

Whether you're a proud member of the 2SLGBTQ+ community or an ally seeking connection, you'll find a place to celebrate yourself in Nanaimo.

Nanaimo Pride Week is a burst of colour, music, and love every June, but our city doesn't stop celebrating there. Locally owned businesses and inclusive spaces welcome everyone. The local 2SLGBTQ+ community is vibrant and visible, with eclectic drag shows and social events year-round.

Explore Nanaimo's indie retail scene for unique products and services crafted by passionate community members. Whether shopping for a gift or soaking up local culture, there's something for you. Enjoy a latte, stroll across the rainbow crosswalks, or dance at inclusive live music venues. We've rolled out the rainbow welcome mat. So, pack your bags, grab your friends, and prepare for an adventure you'll never forget. Nanaimo is waiting for you!
